

GIVE! HEALING ARTS

I am really excited to be bringing a taste of Healing Arts to GIVE this year.

We will be offering the opportunity for everyone attending the festival to get involved (if you would like) in a group drawing/mixed media piece. The Group piece will be taken across the site to different areas to try and include as many participants as possible.

You don't have to be an artist to join in, it's for all. There will be a range of different art materials so people can choose a material that speaks to them and 'Make their Mark'.

We will also be found at GIVE Healing Arts bell tent. Inside again, will be a range of art materials and paper so people can create their own healing arts work and have a chance to chat with two professional art therapists and artists.

The theme will incorporate the intention of Give, coming together, breaking down generational and cultural barriers and cherishing connections, joy, kindness and love to reflect the values of Give.

It will also be nice to think about the transformative nature of Give as a time for growth and evolution of relationships and the power of connections we hold with friends and family, a time to celebrate these through creativity and love.

We aim is to promote mental wellbeing and a feeling of togetherness through the act of creating. People will be able to come together to create something that can be reflected on throughout the year. Creating a meaningful experience that documents the festival, a different visual record.

The Healing Arts Crew consists of:

Hannah Ferry; Art Therapist and healing artist who has worked in adult mental health for over 10 years.

Keisha Castello; Art Therapist and practicing Artist.

Keisha is currently working within the NHS as an Art Psychotherapist.

Dare Cullen Jones; practicing Artist and Performer.

Neil Bramford and Katy Sexton.

We are open for business between the hours of 10am to 3pm on the Friday, Saturday and Sunday. There will always be someone at our base tent during this time.

Look forward to seeing you all.

Hannah & the GIVE Healing Arts Crew.
